Hello,

I would like to introduce myself as your partner with LP Insurance Marketing Group.

As LP Insurance Marketing Group's, Sales Training and Compliance Director, my goal is to provide effective initial and on-going training and support, which will enable agents like you, to meet sales targets while also providing guidance on compliance matters. We are here for you every step of the way from when you first join us until you become the Top Producer Agent that you have been aiming to become.

With our guidance and support LP Insurance Agents will be provided with:

- Support to develop into top producers by comprehensive sales and compliance training.
- On-going training and sales strategies for both short and long-term growth.
- An extensive catalog of valuable and competitive products for current market needs.
- Best practices to execute at peak performance from pre to post-sales.
- A happy, engaged and productive workforce based on our company culture of hard work, accountability and loyalty.
- Teachings about the importance of becoming an integral part of the communities served.
- Full business plan and career mentoring.

Relationships at the heart of it all, within our team, partners and clients!

Thank you for choosing our Agency as your partner. We are excited to see you grow. I am personally here for you and please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

With anticipation to a great career,

Jackeline Chimino
